

Corporate Philosophy of InProcess Instruments, Gesellschaft für Prozessanalytik mbH

Our customers appreciate us ...

... because of our high customer focus and the individual solutions, we provide for the analytic of their chemical processes and other instrumental analytics. They know that InProcess Instruments burns for its technology and analytical concepts, creates sustainable solutions and produces reliable and durable products.

Our employees appreciate us ...

... because InProcess Instruments fosters a trust-based and honest relationship with its customers, guarantees its expertise in developing, fabricating and manufacturing its products, thus securing the jobs of its employees long term. The employees' mutual appreciation, their fairness in dealing with each other and their openness to cultural differences and diversity in thinking and acting build the cornerstones of a success- and goal-oriented team.

Our shareholders appreciate us ...

... because we always provide them the full picture of the financial results of the company and its goals and objectives. We deliver appropriate returns on their invested capital even in difficult times and guarantee that with InProcess Instruments, they invest in an innovative high-tech company with great future potential.

We fulfill our social responsibility by ...

... helping our customers with our products to develop, establish and operate effective industrial processes, thus minimizing energy consumption and protecting our environment. This way, InProcess Instruments supports sustainable business.
